

This diagram is an actual example of a suite of project management processes specifically designed and deployed for a complex public sector project requiring the integration of the work of the client and 8 major supplier companies.